In most cases, the faster you report the error, the easier (and cheaper) it is to correct. Timing Matters

It's important to request a correction as soon as you notice the mistake. The closer it gets to your departure date, the fewer options you may have. Ideally, contact Frontier Airlines at least 72 hours before your flight for international trips and 24–48 hours before domestic ones. ☎1-[800]-[265]-[0080]

If you wait until check-in, agents might not be able to fix your ticket on time, which could lead to denied boarding. ☎1-[800]-[265]-[0080]

What Happens If You Don't Correct It?

If your ticket name doesn't match your ID, TSA or airport staff may prevent you from boarding your flight. Even if the mismatch seems small, security regulations are strict about identity verification.

A mismatch can result in:

- Denied check-in or boarding
- Delayed flights

- Additional rebooking costs

That's why it's critical to double-check your information early.
